Dr. Boon Lim is an experienced Consultant Cardiologist and Electrophysiologist. He is the clinical lead for the nationally-renowned Imperial Syncope Diagnostic Service based at Hammersmith Hospital London. He has experience in reporting and reviewing over 5000 tilt table tests, and has one of the largest volume practices in London and the UK for patients with syncope based the the Imperial Syncope Diagnostic Unit, with the team reviewing over 1000 patients each year, often with difficult-to-treat syncopal symptoms. He has many years of experience as a cardiac electrophysiologist, working in a heavy-volume centre of excellence in Electrophysiology, and has performed over 1200 electrophysiology and ablation procedures, and further supervised and taught his registrars on over 1700 procedures, making him one of the most experienced cardiologists in electrophysiology and ablation in the UK. He is invited to speak at National and International meetings to share his experience particularly in challenging procedures, including complex 3D mapping of atrial tachycardias and atrial fibrillation (AF). He is specialization highly complex ablations for recurrent atrial tachycardia and persistent atrial fibrillation (AF), using state-of-the-art 3 Dimensional Mapping Technology such as Carto, Rhythmia, Precision, Cardioinsight and Cryoablation. He has performed over 800 pacemaker and complex device implantations, including defibrillators. He has a keen interest in training junior doctors, and has guided them to implant over 1200 devices, and now lectures frequently on best techniques for device implantations, including lecturing at the
